

90 min Learning:

Fair Day's Work for a Fair Day's Pay

Date: April 1, 2025 from 1:30-3:00pm EST Live Webinar (no video)

Knowing how to measure and evaluate a fair day's work is worth its weight in gold when dealing with 'goldbrickers.' It ensures that everyone is held to a consistent standard of performance and accountability. By having clear metrics and evaluations, it's easier to identify those who are truly committed to their roles and those who might be taking advantage of the system. This not only protects the integrity of the workplace but also ensures that hard-working officers are recognized and rewarded fairly. In the end, a transparent and fair evaluation system fosters a culture of excellence and trust.

After attending this 90-minute program, attendees can expect to gain the following skills and insights:

- Understand Evaluation Metrics: Learn how to define and apply clear metrics to measure job performance effectively.
- Identify and Address Inefficiencies: Be able to spot instances where employees might be underperforming or 'goldbricking' and initiate strategies to address these issues constructively.
- Promote Accountability: Be able to help build a culture of accountability by ensuring that all team members understand the expectations and standards of their roles.
- Implement Fair Assessment Practices: Will gain insights into creating fair and transparent assessment processes that recognize and reward hard work and dedication.
- Communicate Expectations Clearly: Be able to articulate performance expectations and provide constructive feedback to their teams.
- Enhance Team Morale: Help ensure team morale and productivity.
